

Bizdaily 'Greensill scandal'

to resist sth

a tycoon

to bear responsibility

a white-collar crime

to step up

be grilled by sm

be saddened

economic reverberations

to dream sth up

nerdy

a supply chain finance

to smooth the transactions

to sit in between sm

to pay upfront

to take a cut

a misnomer

be adept at persuading

a remarkable character

technology-driven finance business

quirks

to dress down

people in power

a bunch of politicians

to leave office

to open doors for sm

bailout funds

to peddle and promote

an intense lobbying effort to stretch the rules

to make a loss

a pyramid of debt

money kept flowing in

to fall apart

to come crashing down

to go pear-shaped

to rock the boat

to audit a parent company

a front man

to turn a blind eye to sth

to loan sth out

moderately wealthy individuals

be out of work

to face criminal investigation

a conflict of interest to pursue other business interests

the main take-away

an ultimate collapse

red flags

to look through the numbers to buy into a dream

the dust has settled

a corporate tangle

to unravel sth