

Vocabulary - AI and lawyers

a basic overview of the legal implications as things stand

AI-generated content to scrape all the content to gain a reputation to generate traffic to a website an element of revenue generation that's bound to happen

a longer-term economic benefit to make money out of sth be open to the public to do low-level drafting work to create run-of-the-mill articles to do the grunt work in due course

an image generation tool to make a seemingly minor mistake to reverse engineer sth without oversight

to infringe copyright to come up with a framework of sth be made available publicly for a specific use a smart contract

far from bulletproof

it'll come to the fore to diagnose a particular medical condition a longwinded answer to caption sth automatically